

LSU HISTORY DEPARTMENT AND THE LSU ETHICS INSTITUTE
FALL 2023 LECTURE SERIES

RACE, HISTORY, AND MEDICINE

Monday October 23 at 3:30 pm in Hill Memorial Library

Dr. Kevin McQueeney (Nicholls State) will speak on:

A City Without Care: 300 Years of Racism, Health Disparities and Healthcare Activism in New Orleans (UNC Press, 2023)

Friday October 27 at 3:30 pm in Hill Memorial Library

Dr. Kathryn Olivarius (Stanford)

will speak about her prizewinning book

Necropolis: Disease, Power and Capitalism in the Cotton Kingdom (Harvard, 2022)

Monday November 6 at 4:00 pm in the Sternberg Salon

French House of the Ogden Honors College

Dr. Adolph Reed (U Penn Emeritus)

“Making Sense of Race: What It Is and Isn't, What It Means and Doesn't, and Its Implications for Medical and Public Health Practice.”

All events are free and open to the public